From the Preface to the proceedings: " . . . The seminar was the culmination of a coursework (with course code MCA 2010 506(P) Seminar) to be completed by the MCA students of Calicut University during the Fifth Semester of the MCA programme. As part of the course, each student has to prepare and present a paper on any topic in the field of computer science. . . . The students were required to present a “study paper” in a Departmental Seminar. The papers collected in this volume are the study papers prepared by the students and presented in the two-day seminar.”
