

Demo of a file repository of CSE Dept

A demo of a file repository of the CSE Dept by Mr. Shali K R was held in the Advanced Computer Lab on 25 August 2017. The file repository had been officially launched during the inaugural ceremony of Computer Science Dept Association held on 24 August 2017. The main objective of the repository is to collect and store all department files in a single location for future references. The repository has been configured using the Free Software "Nextcloud".

The repository can be accessed through the link <http://nextcloud.vidyaacademy.ac.in> . However, the repository is password protected and only authorised persons can access the repository.
