

Hectic days ahead: B Tech admission process to begin this week

As per a notification of the Govt, the B Tech admission counseling process is to commence on 21 October 2021 in all engineering colleges. The process will start in Vidya also as per the schedule published by the Govt. So hectic days are ahead for all in the Admin Dept and also for all others involved in the process. As in the previous years, this year also the College has planned meticulously every stage of the process so that the process is as smooth as possible and the students seeking admissions and their parents have a highly pleasant experience going through the counseling process.
